Just so you know, don't feel like you need to answer this… [redacted] does not want to sleep by himself in his own room and he does not want to sleep in my room either, which is understandable. So he is sleeping at one end of the couch and I am sleeping at the other. Try to be fairly quiet when you come in and grab piper and go down to your room? Love you!

Adam passed his swallowing test, so he gets to skip the purée stage (which he is very thankful for). He is apparently taking great joy in squeezing the nurse's hand when she asks him to. He wants a Coke, which might be possible now, though he has to do bite sized pieces so no hamburger like he apparently requested from Mom. They changed a couple medications which seems to be helping a little.

He just started having seizures again after not having any for awhile - he's awake during them and they terrify him. have you arranged a ride yet?

I just caught Timothy trying to sneak upstairs again. And please, no not please this is the most important order I'll probably give today, whatever you do today, do not allow Timothy to pick up Sharma at all! I would prefer you walk Sharma while you're there and then put him in the crate and I will be home before too long after that.

I am not gonna turn motion sensors on before you get home cause I don't want them going off when you get here. Piper is in her crate, please walk her before you go to bed? Please go ahead and go to bed when you get home, as I will have to wake you up early to hand the puppy off to you because I have court tomorrow.

Last message and then I'm calling it a night. I left Sharma in his crate too long tonight because I was not feeling well and he was not wanting to cooperate in my room. He really needs a bath at this point. Could you do that tomorrow in the downstairs bathtub? I trust that you know not to have the water too hot and to not get soap in his eyes. Thank you ahead of time!

I am going to fight hard to be able to stay at work all day tomorrow. I work from home for a half a day is just not ideal, no offense to anybody. It's even less ideal tomorrow when I went to go see Adam after work and it's closer to get there from work then it is from home

Hey, Is it OK if I text you when I pull in and you take him downstairs while I'm changing clothes? I don't want to torture him by being there for a few minutes and then leaving again and then coming back with another dogs smell on me. I want to be able to greet him fully tonight after I get home from Dog Training

I'm out. Please have Timothy empty and reload the dishwasher and do some cleaning? But keep an lon him while he does that so he doesn't try to sneak anything?

Motion sensors are reactivated but I only managed to toss the keychain onto the tops of steps. It's about halfway up the steps, I couldn't get it all the way up with my bad arm apparently. Also, there is a bunch of liquid of some kind on the landing right by the tops of steps. Hopefully that's just water but it needs to be cleaned up ASAP. Love you!

OK make sure he is signed into his user not mine on his tablet and he can do his schoolwork for today. That should be a little easier on you. It would be better if he did it upstairs so he didn't try anything but at least that would be easier on you

The back door was left open and the oven was left on last night. As a result of the back door being open and the heat trying to keep it warm out there, my room is a freakin sauna! Not happy atm…

If the puppy doesn't go back to sleep because it's so warm in my room, you're coming upstairs to take him out there. I'm hoping it doesn't become necessary though

No need to respond to this message. I will set the one motion sensor near the front door and then leave the keys on the steps so you can deactivate it quickly. You will need to walk piper once you get here and then go to bed right away because I will have to wake you up early because Sharma is not going with me tomorrow. Please let me know about any food you want, hopefully you won't want any tonight. I got a few things that are meant to be saved for work lunches. The Salisbury steak in the freezer is open game as is the macaroni and cheese. Salami that is loose in the fridge is also open them, the stuff in the drawer and the pickles are not open them because I'm going to make something with those. I love you and I will wake you in the morning, sorry about that but such is life.

Correction and no need to reply. Only the one motion sensor is on still but the remote is on the banister at the top cause Piper needed to go out and I couldn't risk him sneaking to get that remote. Sorry.

Aunt Renee has gotten a lot of snow and her road is not plowed, so I am starting to look for an Uber now for your work shift tonight. Please be ready, at least dressed, so you can go when necessary? You will need to put the puppy in his crate and piper in her crate and [redacted] in his room and Timothy against the wall in the hall when you leave.

Y'know, I'll tell you what I need to in the morning when I wake you. Motion alarm is not set but pls set it when you come in. Also, you need to walk Piper when you get home but then you can sleep on the couch near the space heater in the living room. So sorry again about that.

They have your number with the gas company. So please answer any calls you don't recognize normally today rather than silly? And remember, they do not need to come inside to test something, you can tell them if there's any sort of gas odor. The only guess appliances are in the laundry room so it would be real obvious real quick!

I love you sweetie but that one is on you. It does not excuse what he did, not at all, but I have told you to take him into my room and make him stand with his nose against the bathroom door. If you're not going to do as I've asked, then you don't have any room to be upset with him. Like I said, he still won't get away with it, but you don't get to complain about it either in that case. What did he do while you were in the bathroom?

OK well he gets nothing else to eat today and I'm actually going to make it worse than that when I get home. I will tell him what the rest is. but you can tell him it's actually going to be worse than that now. If he keeps this up, life is going to get more and more miserable. I'm still not sure how he managed to do anything on his tablet though?

Wow, great job!! Ok so I really want to get a trash can for the living room again and need to replace kitchen trash can and get more child proof things. Could you help with one of the trash cans and the child locks by chance?

Would be like $35 total, I will get the other trash can, just really need to replace those two trash cans and will need locks for both of them. Thank you, sweetie! Proud of you for not spending money!

OK I'm really sorry but the garage door won't close with my remote for some reason when I leave in the morning. Please come close it. You're probably going to set off the motion sensor as well, the remote should be tossed over on the steps somewhere on the upper side of the steps or on the landing.

Did you not read my previous messages? You were going to clean up the side of the garage I am now parking on and make sure to move stuff around if you need to to give me a little bit more space to pull in. And I don't want stuff just thrown around, if you move stuff around please do it neatly.

OK and once you get up for the day, you were going to have to keep a close eye on Timothy and those leftovers from Papa John's

Please set an alarm for 2 pm to start looking for a ride. And make Timothy go potty before you leave and tell him he is not allowed to go potty more than one time after you leave til I get home. And I will be tracking his movements on cam - he needs to be further down the hall against the wall since Piper isn't an issue there now.

Grammy is picking him up at six, basically when I get home. I need you to find him his Mickey backpack or his paw patrol backpack and we are going to put his iPad and headphones in there, preferably both earbuds and the blue over the ear headphones, and I will let you know anything else that needs to go in there when I hear back from Grammy

His camera alerts are already picking up him moving around… I wouldn't put it past him to sneak up the stairs real quick and grab the motion sensor remotes and turn them off… You might want to go upstairs and turn them back on and finish sleeping on the couch. I just don't want any issues

Also, please watch him but please have Timothy get those two pumpkins off the front porch and into the trashcan before Grammy gets there. Grammy isn't supposed to get there till 615 but she was early last time so she might do that again. I hope not.

Remember to bang loudly on the door three times please? I will let Timothy know to listen for you here in the next few minutes. And Grammy may just beat me there again, which doesn't make me happy but anyway. If she does, do not let her in the house this time!

Yup! Sorry about the rush! I never expect to get around that fast! Maybe you could ask him if he would prefer I text him ahead of time, like a day or two earlier, to see if we could set up a ride directly with him and not have to go through the app and do it early? Please tell him it's totally up to him, but he would get paid the entire amount that way and you don't have to worry about getting to work so early

He already gave us his cell phone number, so I know he's willing to help us out. I just need to know if he prefers me to try the app first or to reach out to him directly. And if he prefers directly, whether he prefers for me to do it a day or two in advance. Hopefully that makes sense?

All right I got gas literally right before they raise the price $.35 per gallon! I was pumping gas at the lower price so I get to keep a lower price, but they raised the price at the gas station I was at as I was pumping my gas.

I'm still probably at least 15 miles from home. And it seems like it is starting to lighten up here a little bit. For most of the way so far, I haven't been able to see more than a quarter-mile in front of me if that because it was blowing sideways!

I will get you up to come up here and be on the couch when I go, then you will need to be ready to go by 745…he said he would pick you up a little before 8, so that will make sure you're covered. Set your alarm for 720 maybe, so it goes off after I leave? Are the motion sensors on?

See if anybody would loan you $1.25? That's how much a one-way ride costs. I will make sure you have cash moving forward. This might be a much cheaper alternative, as much as I like Ron, we also need to save money where we can. We will still get his help sometimes, but if this is an option, it's something to consider at least

As long as you are willing to do this, we can actually call ahead on the harbor transit and have a schedule we can print for the buses. The cost would be so much less and we could worry less about rides. He would still need to get a ride when you close, but between this and Ron, we should be able to cover things without you having to wait forever.

Do we need more soy sauce? My work deposit just went in early, which is odd but I'll take it. so I could do a quick delivery from Meyer to get us some more soy sauce. I did add comments to grab plenty of soy sauce, but I don't count on those actually being followed.

Ok. I don't know how long it will take you to get to work. so would like you to leave around 830 on your bike to see how long that takes. Please make sure to wear a helmet and take the bike lock from your other bike? it's not raining now and won't be for a bit yet. If it's raining when you get off, pls holler and I'll come grab you and the bike (otherwise lemme know when you head this way please)

Time to get up. Please have Timothy stay at against the wall downstairs and you sign into the cam down there please? I will leave here at two and be home no later than three so I will be home before you go to work. But you already have your ride for work taken care of anyway.

You left them sitting on my seat. You and I will be having a talk soon about not paying attention to him. And he is not to walk puppy at all anymore. He will come outside with you and stand on the front porch when you do, but he is not walking the puppy anymore.

Did you get him paid for this week? Do you trust me to order headlight and taillight for your bike? You won't need them for the next couple of days, though you will need to use your E bike for tomorrow and Thursday for work. I can go ahead and order those things before you get home tonight so they get here quicker

Don't take that wrong but I did say it that way to make a point. It's probably easy for you to think about except you don't think about the eight hours of work I did almost 2 hours driving each way and the extra hour of work I did for Dog Training and then driving to and from to pick up [redacted] So I think about all that and then let me know if you are really hoping I will stop at an extra place on the way home

It's OK, I was just trying to get you to think about it. I figured you hadn't stopped and thought about that. It's not even about the picky, sweetie. It's just throwing in an extra stop after all that and me being tired and trying to get rid of a slight headache. Fortunately the heads not bad yet. But yeah, always best to look at the whole picture. Love you!

I would definitely consider that if I was doing it, though fitting him you and your bike in the car would get interesting. But I have not heard from Grammy yet. And normally I would pick him up right after work.

That's the only problem with you staying. If you are there after dark, you really aren't legal to ride your bike until you put the stuff on. And by the way, you are putting that on tomorrow! But anyway, I'm probably going to end up having to come get you if you can't get an Uber and I'm not sure you want to even try for an Uber considering you also have to bring your bike with you. So I may be stuck either way…

If you work at four, you need to leave at 3:15 not 245. OK so I was slightly off but not 345. That would be tomorrow when you work at 4:30.

OK but it's not the battery for just this parameter it has to be the battery for the drive train as well. And it's only one battery on that thing. So you didn't charge your battery?

That's because there is only one gear on that bike. They do that on a lot of the E bikes. You're going to have to push it to get to work and then try to find a ride home and do not forget to charge the battery again! Use some gorilla tape, the plastic clear kind. to tape this but under back on if you need to but you didn't charge the battery.

I would not risk starting with less than full at least not leaving from home. And you will have to show me the charger on Wednesday and we can see about maybe getting an extra cord to throw in your backpack so you can charge it work as well, though I don't think that's the issue. You went to and from work the other day with it. You just didn't charge it after that.

And please remember to get [redacted] in sweatpants and a different shirt, preferably a shirt that's not as nice so it doesn't matter if he gets it yucky, before you leave? And they go in their rooms and the puppy goes in his crate. You did not feed [redacted] yesterday… I realize he didn't ask for anything, but you need to make sure you're onenng. He needs to be fed no later than about 2 PM so it's not sitting heavy on his stomach for practice.

If you do end up having to contact your work, you need to let them know that this should not continue to be a problem because of your E-bikeke but you thought you had charged it and you didn't. Or something that sounds along those lines that makes it sound like you will be dependable. And apologize profusely of course!

16 minutes until your ride is there and I am already on the road on my way home. You might want to let Work know that you should be there by 4:30 or a few minutes after. Do not forget your charger for your E bike! I'm not coming to pick you up at midnight!

Please sign into the downstairs camera but you can have Timothy clear off my spot again, just please make sure he does not get into anything? Watch him without using your devices while he does that? I have a couple of Andy's left in the bag that I can just see him swiping

You sat there rather than checking every pocket of every pair of pants and every sweatshirt or coat you own (which I would do in a situation like this and I know you haven't had time to do in the time you searched). Pretty sure you're at least opening at some point today but I dunno other than that.

You don't need to respond to this yet but I need to send this so you have the list for tonight. Timothy is against the wall til you get home. Please clear the food and wrappers he stole earlier when you did not set the motion sensor properly and then he can go to bed in his small room. I will send you a list tomorrow of punishments for him. And you owe me as well. for the record.

He is not to go to bed til he gives me my missing key from this other set. I know he yanked the lock off but he also has one of the keys somewhere. He stays against the wall til I get that key. And everything in his small room comes out and can be put on his bed. Once he gives me the other key back, he may have a single sheet to use to sleep on the floor, no pillow, nothing else, no pad on the floor either

He managed to come upstairs, yank the locks off of both the freezer and the pantry without you noticing, and he stole a bunch of crap that squished and rattled and did all sorts of stuff and you slept through everything…

Since Timothy is keeping me up moving around so much, I'll turn the motion sensor off so you could come inside without worrying about setting off. The remote is at the top of the stairs… Please make sure you turn it back on before you go to bed! But you do need to go straight to bed. After you charge your battery of course

You can also tell him I changed my mind on the saltwater because I don't want him I have any excuses to sit down by trying to claim me as diarrhea. It's not getting away with anything. I'm just not giving him an excuse to sit down, he has to stand up and then run the stairs today.

Before you go, you need to walk the dog thoroughly and crate him, and make sure Timothy goes to the bathroom and then put him in his room and turn the alarm on his door on. I don't think the motion sensor alarm is necessary with the alarm on his door on. Just let me know where you leave the remotes please?

You don't need to respond to this…I have Timothy against the wall but you will need to turn the alarm on his pants off to send him to the bathroom when you get home then re-do the alarm he is wearing. And then you'll hafta take the alarm with you. But not arming the regular motion sensor, will leave that to you since he is already wearing a very loud sensor

Looks like it based on tracking. Please hurry home and do not make any stops. I will let you know as soon as I hear from Grammy, but she will be picking up a little man hopefully not long after you get home. I need you to change him into a different shirt but his pants should be OK. Get his face cleaned up after you get home please. His baseball backpack is in the garage, but I have his cleats in my car. He can just play with regular shoes until I get to his practice tomorrow after work.

She has not left home on the tracking yet but that could change at any moment. I will let you know as soon as I know any change in her location. Could you please count the cheese sticks that came in the grocery order this morning and tell me how many are missing? I will explain after you do that

OK I'm really going to strangle him. Now he is saying he stole an entire block of cheese that was in the refrigerator! But I can't tell exactly how much he ate of it because he's fading in and out on the microphone. Please go downstairs and find out from him how much he ate exactly. And don't yell at him for the time being. I'll deal with him when I get home

I will see what options we have as far as an appointment at the Apple Store this weekend when I get home. I'm probably not more than about 15 or so minutes from home

If it's only the screen that needs replaced, it will be $29 plus tax. If the entire device needs replaced, I think it might be $100. I would have to look it up

Please turn off his alarm for about 60 seconds so he can turn and face the camera since he just cannot hold still and I don't trust that he isn't doing something he shouldn't be. I thought you were going to get up and sign into that camera and then work on cleaning your room?

Please can also be punished by doing as much cleaning is humanly possible today as long as you are watching him closely when he does. I want your room cleaned up today, and I think it's appropriate punishment for you to observe a direct him to clean it up for you after I am keeping both of us up so much and then pulling what he did. Just no screaming Adam or getting in his face in a threatening manner.

OK put a pound of it into the small instant pot and 2 pounds of it into the big one. That's after draining it, of course. Go ahead and cook the 2 pounds with taco seasoning like we normally do and I will tell you what to do with the other pound when I get there in a few minutes. Please send Timothy to open the garage door now because my garage door opener is somewhere in the floorboard of my backseat and I'm not going to try to find it before I get there. I should be there in less than five minutes

Because I was not feeling well momma I was in a slight stage of delirium that lasted until ten minutes after I clocked in when I got some caffeine in my systems I'd rather not risk my life on the road from a wrong tweak of the handlebars or slip of the ignition

Of course I don't want you risking anything either, hopefully you're not implying that I would, but you need to plan things better where you could get a little bit of caffeine here and then go on your E bike so you don't have to deal with all of this.

Please make sure you crate the puppy, and put both boys in their room before you go. Please also make sure that you turn on Timothy's alarm before you leave and leave the keys in the garage. Make sure you send him to the bathroom before you leave. He won't be in there long enough to need to get out

Is there any doubt in your mind that you will be able to leave by four? I need to give Grammy and grandpa a time to come get little man and I was going to say 515, which should give you enough time to get home and gather his baseball stuff and get him into his baseball uniform.

Yep. I took a short lunch today so I will be headed home in time to pick up [redacted] for his game. However, it would help me tremendously if you could put him in his baseball shirt, pants, and socks at about 5 o'clock. His cleats are still in the garage. They could not find the keys earlier to give him pizza rolls, but if he wants pizza rolls, he needs to eat them right when you get home so they are not sitting heavy on his stomach during his game.

Actually, before a circumcise, you need to log into that camera and you need to watch them closely. I pulled it up to make sure you had logged in and he was already very close to [redacted]s room where he doesn't belong and he had one leg propped up like he does.

It was on the back of the couch near where I sit earlier today. It might be on the floor or under the couch there or it might just be on the back of the couch under stuff

I asked if grandpa had a little bit of cash because I don't get paid until like 1:30 PM tomorrow and I have to get gas on the way to work or I won't make it to work and he gave me some extra and told me to get food for us on the way home. It's not a lot but it's a little bit and I'm not gonna use what he told me to spend on food on gas, I'm just gonna spend what I need on gas tomorrow morning. So what sounds good?

I want things neatly stacked, preferably along the edges only so there's more space in it. And things that are obviously trash need to go in the trash. Save any bar stuff just because, even if it's not in great shape. But other than that, trash needs to go in the trash and then things need to be organized and stacked and not just thrown around. There was a lot of stuff that was already over there that could've been stacked along the edges better but we were in a hurry when we moved.

Please don't be afraid to stack things up against the walls of the garage, as long as you don't stack things where they are tipping. But most of our boxes should not end up stacking where they would be tipping anyway

Ewwww! "Letting" him do everything is NOT the answer. You can tell him this comes straight for me… He needs to do what you tell him to do, exactly what you tell him to do, and only what you tell him to do. If he is not doing something you told him to do, he needs to stand still with his hands on his head. How does that sound?

This part is totally up to you but you may offer him that he might actually get to sleep a little bit tonight if you tell me he did well at the end of the day. And don't be Unreasonable about it of course. But that is totally up to you since you are the one there.

Remember I am going straight to [redacted]'s baseball practice after work but I probably will only stay until seven instead of 730 when it actually ends. Plenty of parents only stay an hour. Do you want me to try to get a grocery delivery set up for tonight if I can do it reasonably? And if the answer to that is yes, please let me know any possible requests so I can see if I can do them or not?

One other thing I literally just realized. We have six or seven of those plastic bins that are empty down in the office area. At least I think that's where y'all put them. And [redacted] needs to clean his own room but you will need to supervise and assist some (Timothy can stay in his room while you do that). Then for the downstairs, the stuff under Timothy's bed is fine for now but work on the rest please. And Timothy can help with that room and the living room.

Please make sure Timothy goes into his room with the alarm on when you leave? I should be home not too long after you go, as long as you before you go. And please let me know where you put the alarm when you leave?

Normally I would not text you but I know you don't start work until 430. Where did you put the alarm remote? And Lowes may not have the plug for the vacuum until tomorrow. If that's the case, I will make sure Timothy vacuums like crazy tomorrow and then you can use the steam cleaner on Wednesday after work

I logged out of that for you but you will not be allowed to have any devices tomorrow before work unless you manages to get everything done I assign to m standards, which will not be easy. Not sure what part of Timothy going nowhere but the bathroom without being watched closely but he stole a bunch more of the Easter basket today and hid the wrappers behind the washer and dryer (because he obviously wasn't watched as he should have been)!!!

I remember, trust me. And the second I pulled into the garage. I was told that you were not doing things but rather on your devices all day. I made it very clear yesterday that you were not to be on devices at all today until that list was done and I know you already said that list was not done today. I will be checking the camera to see if what I was told was correct. I am really not happy at the moment!

Please go ahead and get the garage done because I am headed out for home. Fortunately, we don't have much work left tonight. Although, he will have the lion share because after he gets things vacuumed after other stuff is done, I am going to have you seem clean a few things. Not the whole house, but a few areas.

OK nice. I don't need to be there for you to gather trash. If you aren't sure whether or not something is trash, set it on my side of the bed and then we will see. Please include my nightstand, the top of it I mean, in your trash clearing exercise? And please watch Timothy and make sure he doesn't steal any more candy or anything else in there?

Once you get the trash done, if I'm not home yet, you can relax for a few minutes. You can watch while he picks up the living room in preparation to vacuum it. As long as you do that without watching a device and him at the same time.

Sorry, Sharma thought he could get away with something because I was talking into my phone. He is more likely to sneak something upstairs and downstairs. Put him against the wall downstairs and turn the alarm on and leave it on.

He's at the wall now, and I have signed into that since I'm on my way home. Please make sure you activate both alarms before you leave and then leave those keys in my seat with the alarms attached? I can watch them in his room but I also don't want him trying to pull anything while I'm on my way home

Before I left. When I was having you sign in to the camera and turning on the sound for the camera so you would hear the alarm if it went off. And by the way, I told him yesterday that if he did that in the garage again, he would sleep in the garage for a night. So let him know that he will be doing that as soon as the temperatures are safe enough for me to make him do it.

This may sound odd but check the coat rack, and also check under the couches. That is a bright purple shirt, I don't know how it's not being found

Since the fields are at an elementary school, there's a playground right by the fields. I don't expect you to be able to watch the game having to watch the dog as well. It's probably best if you take them over to the playground and just hang out there with him.

It will also probably be cool enough to sit in the car some. You might wanna charge your devices before you go though. I have no issues with you sitting at my car a little bit of the time with him as long as he is not painting or anything and he is not tearing anything apart either. Just please, whatever you do, don't get injured on the playground and make sure he doesn't get injured!

Wasn't clear at all and I will require you to show me that you got the money back or you won't come back with me. And I'm honestly not sure if you're not telling me the truth or if you are just missing it. There is a place under the help area where you could do some thing about it, either way,. It's not titled file a complaint, but it is very easy to figure out.

I know you have to work but I have to say this. And part of it is not your fault because he did it before you got up, but the rest of it completely your fault! He manage to carefully open his door and sneak in the garage after I left for work. And he was in there all freaking day! You never even saw him today! That is beyond unacceptable! I am so upset right now, at him for sure, but also very upset with you!

Actually, correction, he came upstairs, stole some food out of the pantry while you were on the couch, and then went into the garage. So you are more responsible than originally thought. No response needed, we'll talk about this in the morning...

When you get home, I left both sets of keys on the back of the couch. The alarm attached to him is turned on, both of them are actually. Please have him move closer to your door and please log into the camera down there when you get home. I will have it going here until you get home but it will automatically turn it off for me once you login. I love you. please be safe

Your baby brother is having issues with the dog and I heard you laugh at something so you're probably oblivious to it...

Do me a favor and go downstairs and check behind that steam cleaner to make sure there's nothing else there. That's where he had put them earlier when I called him. And do you have an opinion on whether he sleeps tonight or not? I have to work tomorrow, so it would end up being on your shoulders to watch him and have the alarms and stuff on more than normal

I found actual door alarms with remotes that he won't be able to defeat by opening them slowly (separate the magnets in them at all and they go off) - ordered enough for the pantry, garage door, and his room. Hope it was ok I used your info on Amazon, I can't do diddly right now. If you want me to order one more set of two for the fridge and freezer, pls lemme know?

Considering it's already 70° outside, you might want to switch over to AC or at least turn the heat off switch it to the middle click on the thermostat so it doesn't get too warm in there. It won't be near as warm today as it was yesterday

You can do his bread with hot sauce at any time though preferably sooner than later. Put more hot sauce than you did yesterday pls. And he has to eat at least 3 slices with hot sauce but may have more (as long as they all have plenty of hot sauce on them)

My bigger issue is that you said you checked every minute or so but checking on the camera would've told you he wasn't listening. I'm not obsolving him of responsibility by a longshot, but there are reasons the cameras are in place.

OK. I fully believe he does not need to go to the bathroom that often. He is either doing something he should not be in the bathroom or he is trying to go to the bathroom repeatedly hoping you will not turn his alarm back on. Make him wait at least a couple more hours to go to the bathroom again. And Is his alarm back on?

Make sure you've got the camera on in his room as well cause he tried grabbing one of them so it's gonna probably try and grab the other

OK he did well enough while I was driving to work to be able to put some clothes on. However, if he missed behaves bunch, you can take the clothes away. One other thing… Do not let [redacted] see you get upset with Timothy please. And remember Timothy's camera is recording so if he manages to fall sleep because of you not catching something, that's not going to end well for either one of you. Love you, sorry he's being so difficult.

When you leave, please put each of them in their rooms and make sure that [redacted] knows where the keys are (like put them on my spot on the couch or somewhere where he knows where they are and maybe tell me as well) and Timothy is not to leave his room. Make sure Timothy goes to the bathroom before you leave and then turn on the alarm for his room. And tell him he had better not upset [redacted] by activating that alarm.

Don't worry about responding please. I am about to call it a night. Timothy is sitting in his room without his hands on his head but he is sitting there and he doesn't get to sleep. Please give him another cold bath when you get home and make him sit in there for at least 30 minutes. Hopefully with him getting to sit there and not have his hands on his head he will cooperate better. I will have the camera on overnight as well. I will leave the keys on the back of the couch so you can get him out of his room after you turn off the alarm. And then he can put his clothes back on and just sit there after his bath. Hopefully you get to sleep more that way. Hopefully both of us do!

I'm really sorry, I was trying to let you sleep until 11 but I have been dealing with Timothy for over three hours now and I need a few hours of work where I don't have to watch him. He keeps trying to lay down, and I can't keep doing this. Please go ahead and wake up and watch him on his bedroom camera for now. I realized that you don't have the right app for the bathroom camera yet, so don't swap those two cameras until you are ready to leave for work please. I'm really sorry again, I love you.

If he holds his arms up for the next five minutes, I'm OK with you letting him put them down. He had to put them up because he kept trying to lay down on me

Please either enforce his arms or in force him for five minutes straight and then let him put him down because he does not need to get away with anything, you know that's a bad thing if he gets away with stuff

Just wondering. He had a little bit of what looked like pink this time, but not very much at all. He probably got into something he shouldn't have, but it would be more of a concern if it happened twice in a row

Just so you know, if he doesn't behave today, I told him that I am basically turning him over to you from the time you get home today until at least Saturday morning. If he behaves, I will have you let him lay down for a couple of hours today and then he already had earned having to stay up tonight as well. But if he doesn't behave, he will stay up tonight tomorrow and Friday night and I told him I would let you deal with him if he doesn't behave and stay up like he supposed to. Hope that's OK, it sure seems to motivate him!

Trust me, I know he's thin. That being said, he told me a week and a half ago that he wanted to be thin to make me feel bad for punishing him…(you don't get to grump at him for that though, I already lit into him plenty for it)

Yeah so while I want to fix it, he will get most of his calories from plain bread and rice for now for pulling that. He will get plenty of calories but not get to "enjoy" them that way, y'know?

Not fair? That's your response?! First of all, it shouldn't take that long if effort is made to get it done. And I believe it was an accident but it's an accident that has been repeated a lot without significant repercussion and that keeps happening. A little bit with no devices to get things done is far from the end of the world.

Well first you're not gonna slam them anywhere. And you can write him a cold bath and he needs to wash up and then he'll need to find clean clothes that don't fall off of him. And then [redacted] needs a bath as well anyway. And he will need to wash his sheet and he will need to wash the tarp. So you need to fold the tarp up to make sure nothing comes on the carpet and probably take it out back where he could take one of the green and yellow sponges that aren't as nice and some awesome cleaner and scrub the tarp

And please check the carpet and see if he needs to clean that too. There is some different awesome cleaner for carpet that he can use if he needs to. He will need to use a different green and yellow sponge for that. I do not want him using my nice sponges for either of those

OK well his small room and probably the rest of the downstairs after he cleans it up need to be steam cleaned. Get the big steam cleaner that is somewhere in the garage, you'll probably saw it when you cleaned it up, and get that whole area down there Steam cleaned please.

Do me a favor and go ahead and fix him a cup of rice. Instead of using water, use mostly chicken broth? There is some broth in the fridge. Try to get all the way up to the cup with broth and then if you need a little bit more than a couple liquid just be safe, use water. But don't tell him he did that. It's a few extra calories.

So I just discovered you busted Timothy's door kicking it not too long ago…thought you kicked it too hard but just checked it cause I was having issues getting him to bed. You will be paying to replace that, just an FYI…

Forgot to tell you this before I left. Timothy was doing his fake stumbling and falling last night, of course, so I decided to prove once again how fake it is. I asked him if he would stop doing that if he can eat a whole pizza by himself and he said yes of course. And then I told him how obvious it was that it was fake and he had just proven that yet again, and of course he just looked down and didn't respond

Please let Work know that we will definitely have your E bike fixed one way or another by your shift on Sunday. Please let them know, request/bag that your hours not be cut because of this. OK, thank you. If you are staying, could you please stay on his case? It looks like he's trying to go to sleep and I don't have the time to yell at him from work and actually get stuff done here.

Just splash water on him occasionally for now. I will let you know when I am on my way home. I have to stop for gas on the way or I will run out about 15 miles from home. but I will make that a very quick stop and grab you and then head out.

If you need to wander away for a minute, go move that one camera back downstairs where it was and then please take the shower curtains off of the bar in that downstairs bathroom for tonight so he doesn't have those to cover up with. I am serious about making him sleep in there tonight.

Please set your alarm for 5 AM? I ended up dragging him back to his small room because I wasn't going to risk him having access to the tub or other things overnight. He's still trying to be stupid, but I will tell you more tomorrow while I take you to work describing how many different ways I proved that he's still faking. He's still doing it though. It's beyond ridiculous!
